In the years after World War II, the airline stewardess became one of the most celebrated symbols of American womanhood. Stewardesses appeared on magazine covers, on lecture circuits, and in ad campaigns for everything from milk to cigarettes. Airlines enlisted them to pose for publicity shots, mingle with international dignitaries, and even serve (in sequined minidresses) as the official hostesses at Richard Nixon's inaugural ball. Embodying mainstream America's perfect woman, the stewardess was an ambassador of femininity and the American way both at home and abroad. Young, beautiful, unmarried, intelligent, charming, and nurturing, she inspired young girls everywhere to set their sights on the sky. In The Jet Sex, Victoria Vantoch explores in rich detail how multiple forces—business strategy, advertising, race, sexuality, and Cold War politics—cultivated an image of the stewardess that reflected America's vision of itself, from the wholesome girl-next-door of the 1940s to the cosmopolitan glamour girl of the Jet Age to the sexy playmate of the 1960s. Though airlines marketed her as the consummate hostess—an expert at pampering her mostly male passengers, while mixing martinis and allaying their fears of flying—she bridged the gap between the idealized 1950s housewife and the emerging "working woman." On the international stage, this select cadre of women served as ambassadors of their nation in the propaganda clashes of the Cold War. The stylish Pucci-clad American stewardess represented the United States as middle class and consumer oriented—hallmarks of capitalism's success and a stark contrast to her counterpart at Aeroflot, the Soviet national airline. As the apotheosis of feminine charm and American careerism, the stewardess subtly bucked traditional gender roles and paved the way for the women's movement. Drawing on industry archives and hundreds of interviews, this vibrant cultural history offers a fresh perspective on the sweeping changes in twentieth-century American life. Contains general information for technicians on the specifications, MIL resetting and DTC retrieval, accessory drive belts, timing belts, brakes, oxygen sensors, electric cooling fans, and heater cores of twenty-one types of import cars. A Communication Guidebook for Business and Technical Managers who Speak English as a Second Language (ESL) and Aspire to Communicate Successfully with Their U.S. Peers and Customers The most trustworthy source of information available today on savings and investments, taxes, money management, home ownership and many other personal finance topics. Popular Science gives our readers the information and tools to improve their technology and their world. The core belief that Popular Science and our readers share: The future is going to be better, and science and technology are the driving forces that will help make it better. Taking a critical perspective, and using postcolonial paradigms, the authors draw on the experiences of students in Oaxaca, Mexico, to examine the issues raised by postcolonial English. This book is intended for scholars and students in applied linguistics, cultural anthropology, and cultural studies. (Education/Teaching) This is a maintenance & repair manual for the DIY mechanic. A Comedy Sci-Fi Like No Other! Where Zombies are your friends and only occasionally eat brains. In a future where zombies are equals, Roy Tubbs and his recently deceased zombie friend Kurt 'Mac' MacReady are fed up with their dead end jobs as an accountant and lifeguard respectively. Drunkenly deciding to use their savings and Mac's recent insurance claim they go on a once in a life time road trip. Though not all goes as planned as they delve into the fragile, flaky world of zombie politics. With kidnappings, strange abominations and an ill-fated opportunity to save every zombie on earth. First Published in 2002. Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an informa company. Food Service Manual for Health Care Institutions offers a comprehensive review of the management and operation of health care food service departments.
