Phosphorus Biogeochemistry of Sub-Tropical Ecosystems
2022 Phosphorus is one of the major nutrients limiting the productivity of terrestrial, wetland and aquatic ecosystems. Over the last decade several research projects were conducted on Florida's ecosystems from state and federal agencies and private industry to address water quality issues, and to develop management practices to control nutrient loads. Phosphorus Biogeochemistry in Sub-Tropical Ecosystems is the first thorough study of the role of phosphorus in ecological health and water quality ever published. Because of its vast and extensively studied ecosystems, Florida has often served as a national laboratory on current and future trends in ecosystem management. The reader will find studies at all levels of biological organization, from the cellular to entire ecological communities. The book is a definitive study of the role and behavior of phosphorus deposition in the upland/wetland/aquatic environment. The papers presented in this book are organized in specific groups: ecological analysis and global issues, biogeochemical transformations, biogeochemical responses, transport processes, phosphorus management, and synthesis. Although Florida's ecosystems are used as a case study, the results presented have global applications.

Untersuchungen zum Einfluss von Rauchgas-Aerosolen in Müll- und Biomasse-Verbrennungsanlagen auf die Hochtemperatur-Korrosion der Überhitzer Jun 05 2020 Ein Probenahme- und Messsystem wurde entwickelt, das die chemische und physikalische Untersuchung aggressiver und heisser Rauchgas-Aerosole sowie die Generierung linebreak geschlossener Partikel-Massenbilanzen in Verbrennungsanlagen ermöglicht. Die Probenahmesonde verdünnt und kühlt das Aerosol über ein keramisches, poröses Rohr mit Luft auf 300 °C. Die Messungen an zwei Müll- (MVA) und einer Biomasse- (BMA) Verbrennungsanlage ergaben mehrere, potenzielle Korrosionsursachen der Überhitzer: Die MVA mit geringer Korrosion wies eine geringere Partikelzahl und gleichzeitig weniger klebrige und aggressive Partikel auf. Die Sulfatierung der Partikel in der Flugphase konnte überdies um 50 % weiter fortschreiten als in der MVA mit hoher Korrosionsrate. Die Partikel mit Durchmessern zwischen 1 µm und 20 µm, die jeweils im Minimum einer bimodalen Gröszenverteilung lagen, zeigten das höchste korrosive Potenzial.
